DIDSBURY NEEDS YOUR BUSINESS

The weather is dry, very dry for the Didsbury district at this time of year, and old timers tell us that while the weather is unusual, it was just as dry back in 1919. If it stays dry we can't expect much crop, although good general rains now would change the outlook entirely.

There is nothing we can do about the weather, and while business in general will no doubt suffer due to decreased income of our farmers, who after all provide the prosperity of this district, we can help ourselves over the lean periods by keeping what business there is at home wherever possible, and patronizing our local concerns where price and quality are taken into consideration.

The farmer may be in financial difficulty if he hasn't a crop, but if he has been a good customer, loyal to his home town merchants, he can expect some consideration if he needs temporary credit, providing he has kept that credit good. On the other hand when he buys in his home town he is providing profits for local business concerns, a part of which goes in the form of taxes to keep up churches, schools and other community enterprises from which everyone benefits in some way or another. If a business place is prosperous it can provide better service, more goods to choose from, at prices to compare favorably with the cities.

Your local newspaper is a firm believer in home town support. But home town trading does not mean that the farmer should buy in Didsbury, while the town residents and business men patronize outside concerns. Our business men should set an example for others. Some of them at times seem to forget this important fact, but it may be brought home to them very forcibly in the months to come.

WHO ARE THE WORKERS?

At any big election time the standard practice of those seeking office is to appeal to the worker. If elected, they chant, they will look after the worker. And that raises the question in our minds: just who is this worker whose vote they are soliciting?

Obviously, it is the man who toils with his hands. But, by that very explanation, the vote of the professional man, the doctor, the lawyer, the merchant, the industrialist, is being ignored. But are not these men just as much workers as those who wield a hammer or bend over a lathe? Many a man who is not dignified by the title "worker" works longer over his desk than the member of the union and often he takes his problem home to the exclusion of his leisure time.

On this subject of classifying workers, we take pleasure in quoting the Timmins, Ontario, "Press" which editorialized, in part, as follows:

"Work is not confined to manipulating the hands. The brain worker is often subject to just as much fatigue—sometimes bodily as well as mentally—as is the man at the factory bench. Moreover, when the average factory hand quits for the day, his troubles are over until the next morning. But not so with the business executive. His business is on his mind during all of his waking hours. He finds himself returning to his office, or working out his problems at home to the exclusion of worldly pleasures which may be enjoyed regularly by the man who handles tools and confines his work to regular hours.

"... It is a fine thing to honour the men who labour, for they are the salt of the earth; but all the labourers do not wear overalls. Vast numbers of them may be found among the class of people who are holding so-called 'white collar' jobs—many of them indeed working harder and putting in longer hours than some of those who enjoy the popular distinction of being known as workingmen."

BIG FISH CATCH

An Aberdeen fishing vessel has created a world record by landing 61 tons of fish at her home port.

She is the vessel Ellina and after a 20 days' trip to Icelandic waters she returned with 58 tons of halibut and three tons of other fish.

SERVICE BOARD NOTES

W.K. Snyder, Field Supervisor

The season for spraying with 2,4-D is with us again. In order to get the maximum results from the use of chemical there are several important things to keep in mind. Speed of travel is very important. Four m.p.h. is considered to be the best speed for spraying. It is fast enough to cover large acreages and yet slow enough to prevent undue strain on the boom, etc., due to lashing and whipping. To determine the speed your tractor travels proceed as follows: Measure a course 200 feet long. Time the tractor with a stop watch or second hand as it travels over this course. If it takes 34 seconds to travel 200 feet your tractor will be going exactly 4 m.p.h.; 32 seconds, 4 1/2 m.p.h.; 30 seconds, 4 3/4 m.p.h. Several trial runs will give the best information. When this is found, mark the throttle setting for future use.

For those contemplating buying a sprayer here are a few points well worth considering:

1. Tank of large capacity and rustproof.
2. Pump with large capacity for fast filling and which will also give plenty of by-passing while spraying to maintain proper agitation.
3. Control valves within reach of operator for regulation of pressure while spraying.
4. Adequate filtering system.
5. Non-corrosive booms and nozzles.
6. Safety release on booms which will protect them when striking an obstacle.
7. This machine should be simply constructed, well braced at points of straining, and replacement parts should be readily available.

Notes From The D.A.

(By Hugh McPhail)

I have been asked to make a survey done by the sweet clover weevils. I have had some damage reported to me and have seen some fields that have been damaged. I would appreciate it very much if someone who is having their sweet clover damaged by insects would report it to me.

The following article on the weevil will be of some interest and will give some idea of the insect that does the damage.

Weevils Threaten Sweet Clover Crop

A small greyish-brown snout beetle that falls to the ground and plays "possum" when disturbed is causing concern among Alberta's sweet clover growers. It's the sweet clover weevil.

The adult beetles which are about one-fifth of an inch long, overwinter in the sweet clover in the fields. In the spring when the clover starts to grow, they feed on the fresh green leaves and lay their eggs in the soil. Since the beetles that develop from the eggs are ready to start eating the crop in the fall, damage occurs at both ends of the season.

Although sweet clover plants can be attacked at any stage of growth, the most serious damage is done to the seedlings. Weevils feed on the margins of the leaves, chewing out crescent shaped pieces, so their presence is not hard to detect. But unless you know something about their habits you will not likely find weevils. At the first sign of damage they fall from the ground and remain motionless.

From trials conducted last year there are indications that the newer insecticides such as chlordane, toxophene and aldrin may be effective, and the work in this connection is continuing.

WEDDINGS

BROWN-BOLUS

Summer flowers and ferns formed a background for the wedding on May 17 in Knox United church, Calgary, of Maxine Patricia Holub of Foremost, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Holub of Calgary, formerly of Didsbury, and James Ivan Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Brown of Lethbridge, formerly of Foremost. Rev. J. L. Pottruff performed the double-ring ceremony. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown of traditional white satin which was styled with fitted bodice and deep yoke. Also featured were lily point sleeves while her only ornament was a string of pearls, gift from the groom. Her full length veil mistled from a tilla of lace and seed pearls. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of red roses with flowing satin streamers.

A gown of blue nylon sheer over tulle was worn by the bridesmaid, Steve Yisek of Foremost. She wore a matching chapel veil and carried a bouquet of carnations. Marvin Houtman, also of Foremost, was the best man, while Messrs. Frank Bullis of Foremost and George "Buster" Brown of Lethbridge acted as ushers.

A reception followed in the Harris Sky Room where the bride's mother chose a dress of figured grey with black accessories and a pink carnation corsage. Also in the receiving line, the groom's mother chose rose with black accessories and white carnations.

Spring flowers were used throughout the reception room. The head table featured a three-tiered wedding cake flanked with flowers and candles. D. A. Brown proposed the toast to the bride with the groom responding.

For their honeymoon at Banff the bride changed into a navy gabardine suit complemented by white accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Out of town guests at the wedding included relatives from Didsbury, Olds, Pincher Creek, Lethbridge and Foremost.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Brown have taken up residence at 1044, 14th St. South in Lethbridge.

The bride is a former Didsbury girl who attended public and high school here before moving to Calgary with her parents. Prior to her marriage she was telephone agent at Foremost.

M.V.B.C. NEWS ITEMS

The Provisions Committee is happy to announce that to date about 185 dozen eggs have been preserved for the coming year. 35 dozen more than our objective will have been reached. Canned rhubarb will be the next in order, and if anyone has a surplus this summer and would like to share some with us we would be pleased to receive it.

On Saturday evening, June 11, Abe Sawatzky in company with Ormand Sherick, LaVerne Neufeld, Edward Archer and Donald Burgess, patrol leaders of the Didsbury Christian Boys' Club, motored to Bergen where they met the Boys' Club of Rev. Peter Dyck's church. Each one of the patrol leaders gave a brief talk on various phases of the Club's activities; then Abe brought a very timely message which challenged youth to meet the need of the hour. The Misses Edith and Marion Sherick and Mrs. Pearl Lemont sang several trio numbers during the course of the service. A special offering was taken to assist the Bergen people to purchase a piano for the church.

On Friday evening, June 16, both the Senior and the Young Men's Missionary Societies of the United Missionary Church held a joint meeting at the College. Mrs. Lydia Butler, W.M.S. director of the Canadian North West Conference, reported on the Inter-Conference Council meeting held at Kitchener, Ontario, in May. After the business meeting, during which time Miss Hazel Eby, missionary on furlough from Mexico, spoke briefly, the ladies served a tasty lunch. The events of the evening were climaxed with a fine grocery shower for Mrs. Suder.

On Tuesday, June 20, Ernie Neufeld, the missus Marjorie and Hazel Eby and Helen Swaim, left for Yakima, Washington. Ernie's father, Mr. C.U. Neufeld, took them in his car. They are going by way of Winfield, B.C. where Myra Neufeld will join the party. Ernie and Myra will be the youth workers at the Washington Camp Meeting, and Marjorie will be the Camp dietitian. The others are visitors.

Mrs. Lydia Suder has moved to the College residence across the road east of the campus. The house was formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Eby.

Miss Hazel Eby, graduate of M.V.B.C. in 1943, and second daughter of Mr. Samuel Eby of Didsbury, returned from Mexico last Thursday. Hazel has spent one tour in Mexico as a missionary and social worker. She labored under the supervision of the People's Church of Toronto, and is scheduled to return to Mexico late in January 1951.

On Sunday, June 18, Abe and Grace Sawatzky, Lois Salmon and Margarita Sawatzky attended the 25th annual Maydon Sunday school convention which was held at the May City United Missionary church. This is an annual occasion in which from six to eight rural Sunday schools of various denominations participate. Abe took with him and operated the Public Address system, in order that the overflow crowd might be accommodated. Lois and Margarita had charge of the children's service in the afternoon. They showed a series of pictures which proved helpful and interesting to all of the younger ones. These young women plan to spend the summer months in children's work in the United Missionary Church Conference of Alberta.

Commend Dairymen For Advt. Program

The Hon. D.A. Ure, Minister of Agriculture, commends the Dairy farmers of Canada on their decision to initiate an advertising campaign to advance the consumption of dairy products in Canada. "This is a worthwhile and commendable undertaking," says Mr. Ure.

"It is gratifying to me that producers themselves are taking some action to enlarge the market for their own products and thus to improve their own welfare. Such action is preferable to the alternative that has so often been followed of relying upon governmental action to take care of the surplus product or to protect an industry. "The dairy farmers of Canada are very well aware of the fact that while about 5 per cent of the total milk in Canada is exported, this small quantity very largely determines the price at which all milk consumed in Canada is sold. An increase in the consumption of milk in Canada will reduce the exportable surplus and so benefit Canadian producers."

Mr. Ure pointed out that funds for the June Advertising Set-Aside Campaign were being raised by contributions from the producers themselves. This is being done by setting aside one cent per pound of butterfat sold during the month of June. The contribution will not be burdensome inasmuch as it will not amount to more than 25 or 30 cents per cow. The method of securing the funds is both unique and commendable.

The Minister expressed gratification that dairymen in every province in Canada are participating wholeheartedly in the Set-Aside Campaign. He stated that he understood every manufacturer in the Province of Alberta has agreed to cooperate with the Dairy Farmers by collecting the set-aside for the month of June.

After 10 years ban, licenses may be granted Canadians to export surplus pork.

CANADA'S LARGEST POULTRY PLANT

Considered to be Canada's biggest poultry venture, an apple grower near Kenville, N.S., is raising 116,000 pullets this year and plans are underway to build four 4-deck laying houses 40 feet by 240 feet capable of housing

10,000 birds each. A feature of the new houses will be the mechanical handling of the feed right to the feeding pens. Most of the laying birds are hatched in December and January and will never go on range. Last year this operator successfully handled 30,000 layers, largely in renovated warehouses and old barns.

Another old paper that came to light when Norman Weber was dismantling the old house on his farm was a copy of the Farmer's Advocate, dated August 2, 1905, which was sent regularly to Norman's father, Mr. Amos Weber. This periodical was published in Winnipeg and the market report may be of some interest. Quotations were: oats 42 cents a bushel; barley 40 cents; flax $1.10; Baled Hay $6 to $7; cheese 11c; butter 18c; eggs 16c; choice cattle 2 1/2 to 3 cents; hogs 5 1/2 cents. Horses were quoted from $125 to $200; draft horses 1350 to 1750 lbs., $150 to $225.

A report in the Advocate said that crop prospects in Alberta in 1905 were excellent.

RED CROSS IN WINNIPEG LAUDED BY U.S. EXPERT

The greatest emergency job any city has ever faced on the North American continent has been undertaken by the Canadian Red Cross in Winnipeg, states Colin Herrie, director of distress relief for the American Red Cross.

Mr. Herrie came from Washington to act as observer of work and scope of the Red Cross flood relief for the American organization.

"From the viewpoint of one who has been actively concerned with great distresses in the United States during the past 20 years, I cannot speak too highly for the manner in which the local Red Cross organization has faced this enormous responsibility of organization and relief," he stated.

Maj. Gen. F.F. Worthington, director of civil defense for Canada, has also been on the territory surveying and observing work in the distress area. Before returning to Ottawa, he paid tribute to Red Cross for its handling of the job.

"This has been a distress of the first magnitude," he stated. "If the Canadian Red Cross did not exist, where would we be? It has filled the needs of housing, feeding, clothing and comforts. In any organization of civil defense in which I am concerned, the Red Cross will play an important part. No other relief group in the country can begin to fulfill the obligations to the community in the same way as the society."
